

Seagrass Stories

What does it take to bring an underwater meadow back to life?

Capture what you notice, question and discover. Use words, sketches, arrows and Post-its.

1 · EXPERIENCE | Enter the meadow

What catches your attention? What relationships can you see? What surprises or confuses you? What do you want to know more about?

2 · INVESTIGATE | Look behind the game

What changes quickly? What might take longer in the ocean? What evidence would tell you the meadow is recovering?

3 · REFLECT & DISCUSS | Make sense

What changed how you think about ocean restoration? What are you now curious to understand more about?

4 · CREATE | Bring ideas to life

Put your understanding to work. In groups of 2-3, design an experience that helps someone else understand something you discovered about ocean restoration.

Use 6-10 Post-its in this space. Your idea should show:

- a real choice or action
- what happens because of it
- how the habitat responds
- how things change over time
- what you want someone to understand

Connect your Post-its with arrows. What happens because of what?
